From the Catechism of the Catholic Church (slightly adapted):

- Paragraph 386: Sin is present in human history; any attempt to ignore it or to give this dark reality other names would be futile.
- Paragraph 390: The account of the fall in Genesis 3 uses figurative language, but affirms a primeval event, a deed that took place at the beginning of the history of man. Revelation gives us the certainty of faith that the whole of human history is marked by the original fault freely committed by our first parents.
- Paragraph 391: Behind the disobedient choice of our first parents lurks a seductive voice, opposed to God, which makes them fall into death out of envy. Scripture, and the Church's Tradition see in this being a fallen angel, called 'Satan' or the 'devil'.
- Paragraph 397: Man, tempted by the devil, let his trust in his Creator die in his heart and, abusing his freedom, disobeyed God's command. This is what man's first sin consisted of.
- Paragraph 407: Ignorance of the fact that man has a wounded nature inclined to evil gives rise to serious errors in the areas of education, politics, social action and morals.
- Paragraph 538: The Gospels speak of a time of solitude for Jesus in the desert immediately after his baptism by John. Driven by the Spirit into the desert, Jesus remains there for forty days without eating; he lives among wild beasts and angels minister to him. At the end of this time Satan tempts him three times, seeking to compromise his filial attitude towards God. Jesus rebuffs these attacks, which recapitulate the temptations of Adam in Paradise and of Israel in the desert, and the devil leaves him 'until an opportune time'.

- ❖ Fr. David Mead, alias Fr. David II, will celebrate his Golden Jubilee of Ordination to the priesthood on Saturday 18th March with a Mass and
