For the Holy Souls in November.....

As the months pass and the seasons change, something of tranquility descends, and although the well-remembered footstep will not sound again, nor the voice call from the room beyond, there seems to be about one in the air, an atmosphere of love, a living presence.

I say this in no haunting sense, ghosts and phantoms are far from my mind. It is as though one shared, in some indefinable manner, the freedom and the peace, even at times the joy, of another world where there is no more pain. The feeling is simply there, pervading all thought, all action. When Christ the healer said: 'Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted' he must have meant just this.

Later if you go away, if you travel, even if you decide to make your home elsewhere, the spirit of tenderness, of love, will not desert you. You will find that it has become part of you, rising from within yourself; and because of it you are no longer fearful of loneliness or the dark, because death, the last enemy, has been overcome.

Prayer cards will be distributed before Mass today for us to offer our prayer during Mass. May our prayer inspire us to aide those in need and involve God's blessing on the poor.
